

Rego Park Counseling — Substance Use Pages Content

Sep 30, 2026 · @jhonatan

Ready-to-build copy for the Substance Use hub and its three pages. This is the OASAS side of the clinic, where Cornerstone (Fresh Meadows, 208 reviews) leads the map pack and RPC's current pages rank #65 to #77. Text in [brackets] still needs a fact from Emmanuel.

Shared rules for Substance Use pages

These pages must win "outpatient" searches in Queens without ever implying detox, residential care, IOP or medication for addiction.

Wording decision: "outpatient rehab"

People search "outpatient rehab nyc" (260/mo) and "new york outpatient rehab" (210/mo). We may use the phrase only as "outpatient rehab", in a secondary heading and one FAQ, because it is accurate. Never "rehab" alone, "rehab center", "rehab facility" or residential imagery. This updates the design brief's "avoid rehab" rule for these pages only.

Compliance

- Outpatient only. No detox, inpatient or residential. No IOP until Julian confirms (1,000/mo searches for "intensive outpatient programs in nyc" are not ours to target yet).
- No MAT, Suboxone, Vivitrol, buprenorphine or methadone offers. MAT belongs to the primary care company. Where relevant: "If medication for addiction could help, we can refer you [confirm referral path]."
- For withdrawal: "If you may need medical detox, call your doctor or 911. We can help you plan outpatient care after detox."
- OASAS-licensed. "Most Medicaid plans." No success rates or guarantees.
- Language: "substance use", "alcohol use", "person in recovery". Never "addict", "abuser", "clean/dirty" in page copy (keyword phrases like "substance abuse" are fine in titles where people search them).

Keyword split with the blog

Search type	Owner

Intro

H2: Recovery That Fits Your Life

Addiction is a health condition, not a moral failing. At Rego Park Counseling, you meet with licensed counselors in your own neighborhood, on a schedule that works for you. No overnight stays. No judgment. Just a plan built around your life.

What we treat (link block)

H2: Treatment for Alcohol and Drug Use

- Alcohol Use Treatment — For drinking that has become hard to control. → Alcohol Use Treatment
- Drug Use Treatment — For marijuana, cocaine, opioids, pills and other drugs. → Drug Use Treatment
- Dual Diagnosis — When substance use and mental health problems happen together. → Dual Diagnosis
- Evaluations — Court, DMV or employer assessments. → Evaluations

How outpatient treatment works

H2: What Is Outpatient Rehab?

Outpatient rehab means you come to the clinic for counseling sessions and go home the same day. It works well for people who are medically stable, have a safe place to live and want support without leaving work or family.

What treatment can include [confirm]:

- Individual counseling → Individual Therapy
- Group counseling → Group Therapy
- Family sessions → Family Therapy
- Relapse-prevention planning
- Telehealth sessions → Telehealth

What to expect

1. Call or request a callback. We check your insurance.
2. Assessment. A credentialed clinician learns about your use, health and goals.
3. Your plan. Sessions at a pace that fits your life, reviewed as you progress.

Is outpatient right for me

H2: Is Outpatient Treatment Right for You?

Outpatient care may fit if you can stay safe between sessions. If you may need medical detox, or you are in danger, call your doctor or 911 first. We can help you plan outpatient care after detox.

FAQ

H2: Outpatient Substance Use Treatment FAQs

1. What is the difference between outpatient and inpatient rehab? Inpatient programs have you live at a facility. Outpatient treatment, which we provide, lets you live at home and attend sessions at our Queens clinics or by telehealth.
2. Do you offer detox? No. If you may need detox, talk to your doctor first. We can help with outpatient care afterward.

3. Do you accept Medicaid for substance use treatment? Yes, we accept most Medicaid plans.
4. How often will I come in? [Confirm typical schedule.] Your counselor sets the schedule with you.
5. Can my family be involved? Yes, family sessions are available. → Family Therapy
6. Can I get treatment after a court or DWI referral? Yes. → Court-Involved · DWI Evaluation

H1: Outpatient Alcohol Treatment in Queens

Subhead: If drinking is causing problems with your health, family or work, you can get help close to home without putting your life on hold.

Signs

H2: Is Your Drinking Becoming a Problem?

- Drinking more, or for longer, than you meant to
- Trying to cut down and not being able to
- Needing more to feel the same effect
- Missing work or family responsibilities because of drinking
- Drinking to cope with stress, anxiety or sadness
- People close to you are worried

If you have shaking, sweating or confusion when you stop drinking, talk to a doctor: alcohol withdrawal can be dangerous and may need medical care first.

How we help

H2: How Outpatient Alcohol Counseling Works

- Honest assessment. Understand your drinking and what drives it.
- Skills to change. Handle cravings, triggers and high-risk situations; plan for setbacks.
- Support around you. Group sessions with others in recovery, and family sessions so home becomes part of the solution.

One line: "Drinking to cope with anxiety or depression? We treat both together." → Dual Diagnosis

H1: Dual Diagnosis Treatment in Queens

Subhead: When anxiety, depression or trauma and alcohol or drug use feed each other, you need care for both, from one team, in one place.

Trust line: Licensed by both NYS OMH (mental health) and NYS OASAS (substance use)

What it is

H2: What Is a Dual Diagnosis?

A dual diagnosis (also called co-occurring disorders) means having a mental health condition and a substance use problem at the same time. They often feed each other: drinking to calm anxiety, using to escape depression, or substance use making mood swings worse. Treating only one usually is not enough.

Common combinations

H2: Common Combinations We Help With

- Anxiety and alcohol use → Anxiety Counseling
- Depression and alcohol or drug use → Depression Counseling
- Trauma or PTSD and substance use → PTSD & Trauma Counseling
- Bipolar disorder and substance use → Bipolar Disorder Counseling

Why one clinic matters

H2: Why Integrated Care Works Better

- One plan, not two. Your mental health and substance use goals live in the same plan.
- One team that talks. No bouncing between separate programs with separate rules.
- Licensed for both. RPC is licensed by the NYS Office of Mental Health and the NYS Office of Addiction Services and Supports.

FAQ

H2: Dual Diagnosis FAQs

1. How do I know if I have a dual diagnosis? You do not need to know before you call. A licensed clinician will assess both your mental health and your substance use at your first visit.
2. Which should be treated first? In integrated care, both are treated together, because each affects the other.
3. Is this an inpatient dual diagnosis program? No. We provide outpatient care, so you live at home and attend sessions in Queens or by telehealth.
4. Do you prescribe medication? [Update if psychiatry is confirmed.] We provide counseling and can coordinate with your doctor or psychiatrist.
5. Does Medicaid cover dual diagnosis treatment? We accept most Medicaid plans.

Needed from Emmanuel

Most brackets here are about medication and referrals, which are the riskiest claims in this section; nothing about them ships until confirmed.

- ☐ Is IOP offered? (if yes, a new page could target "intensive outpatient programs in nyc", 1,000/mo)
- ☐ Referral path when someone needs medication for addiction (MAT) or detox: who do we refer to? Can we name the primary care company?
- ☐ Which substances the team treats (confirm the list on Drug Use Treatment)
- ☐ Typical treatment schedule (sessions per week, typical length of treatment)
- ☐ Which services run at which clinic (group therapy, family sessions, substance use at Fresh Meadows?)
- ☐ Clinical stance on goals (abstinence only, or reduction also supported) for the alcohol FAQ

- ☐ Naloxone: does the clinic give out or train on naloxone? (adds a trust point)
- ☐ Is adolescent care truly not offered (confirms the /adolescent-substance-use-treatment/ redirect)?
